The Transfiguration

“PROVIDENCE”

This coming Wednesday evening in our Bible class in the east end of the multipurpose room, we will continue to study our book entitled Providence. This coming week, we will begin with the principle of “perhaps”. Sometimes God somehow orders circumstances to bring about blessings in our lives. It is probably safe and biblical to say God does that at times. It is more problematic, however, to look back on a particular circumstance and say, “God did that for sure.” Even the inspired Apostle Paul would only say, “Perhaps God did that.” Onesimus was a runaway slave from the city of Colossae, who, like many others in his situation, went to Rome. There, he met Paul and Paul converted him to Christ.

Onesimus became a regular companion and valuable helper of Paul during Paul's house arrest. Onesimus had run away from Philemon, a brother in Christ whom Paul had converted during his stay in Ephesus, Paul wrote to Philemon that he was sending Onesimus back, no longer as a slave, but as beloved brother. Paul told Philemon, “For this perhaps is why he was parted from you for a while, that you might have him back forever.” Paul at least thought that it was likely, but the most he would say was, “Perhaps.”

If you're not presently attending a class on Wednesday evening, please consider joining us in the east end of the multipurpose room during class time for what “perhaps” would be a profitable study.

The transfiguration of Jesus contains many different details that are easy to overlook. Mountains are often associated with divine revelation—think Mts. Moriah and Sinai. The bright cloud, the shining of Jesus' face, and the whiteness of his garment all point to the truth that God is light (1 John 1:5). The cloud is meant to remind us of God's presence leading Israel in the wilderness as well as his presence in temple worship. Perhaps Peter sees this as a sign that the kingdom has come.

There is some indication that the Feast of Tabernacles was associated with celebrating the reign of God, which accounts for why Peter wished to build booths. In Luke's account, Moses and Elijah spoke of Jesus' “departure” (lit. exodos in Greek). The festival of tabernacles followed the exodus, so much meaning appears in this story. Moses represented the law and those who died, and Elijah represented the prophets and those who lived in Christ. In Jesus, both are fulfilled. Their presence conveys that the law and the prophets — the living and the dead — bear witness to Jesus as the Messiah. Once God speaks, Moses and Elijah are no longer present. As they walk down the mountain, Jesus explains to them that Elijah has already come, referring to John the Baptist (Mal. 4:5–6; cf. Luke 1:17).

Years later, when met with opposition, Peter recalled the Transfiguration of Jesus to demonstrate that the teachings of Christianity were rooted in history and the power of the Holy Spirit (2 Peter 1:16–18). That experience of seeing Jesus in his majesty was proof of the “power and coming of our Lord.” Just before his Transfiguration, Jesus asked his disciples who he was. Peter confessed that he was the son of God, and on the mountain, God confirmed this: “This is my beloved Son,” he said.

Who Were They?

From the time that Calloway County was officially formed in 1822, there were travelling preachers who ventured into the county. Although there are a few scattered references to NT worship in the county during the earliest days, we, sadly, do not know the identities of many of these men.

It is known that worship was held in the vicinity of the present-day Murray Cemetery. There are also fairly reliable accounts of some small band having NT worship over on the south side of present-day Murray in the area old-timers called Poole Hill (intersection of South 4th & Sycamore).

Neither of these groups had a permanent building nor did they leave any records. Remnants of these and other groups came together and built the first Restoration house of worship in Murray in 1844, largely with the guidance of Peyton Utterback and a Paris Dentist named Dr. McCall.

This building was constructed on what is now South 6th Street, near the intersection of Water Street (now Maple) and it served the church until 1868.

YOUTH

Jacob Vaughan

The youth Christmas party will be held here at the church building on Saturday December 20th. We will have food and games for all to enjoy. We will also be playing "dirty Santa/white elephant" so if you would like to participate, please bring a $15 gift with you. A sign up will be posted on the youth board within the next few weeks.

I am starting to get logistics down for our CYC trip this coming February. If you would like to chaperone, please contact me as there are only a certain number of spots available depending on how many kids we have sign up.

The sign up for CYC is posted on the youth board in the commons. If possible, please sign up before December 20th. The trip will take place February 19th - 22nd and we will depart from the Glendale parking lot at 1:00 that Thursday the 19th. Please try and eat lunch before your arrival. The cost to attend the trip this year is currently sitting at $160. I will let you all know if that changes asap.

Upcoming Events
